Air Conditioners

These products are designed to produce a difference in temperature and reduce humidity as well as catch impurities in the room. There are 3 cooling methods: Air cooled means passing warm air from the room over an evaporator and chilling it before being returned to the room. Captured heat is expelled outside the room via an exhaust hose. Air and water cooling works as in the first system, but cooling of the condenser is boosted by water. Air cooled split system uses the principle of air cooling but consists of 2 units - the evaporator is housed in the inside unit while the condenser is placed outside. They are joined via refrigerant lines that can be connected through a hole in the wall, or channel in the window sill. *Factors that determine the effectiveness of air conditioners include amount of sunshine entering the room, outside temperature, level of insulation, amount of ventilation and internal heat sources such as electrical equipment.
